

AROUND THE WORLD IN 14 DAYS!

October ended with a week of exciting food and wine events in Seoul, starting with Jeannie conducting a vertical tasting of Onda d'Oro Cabernet Sauvignon for Korean wine professionals. On another evening, Jeannie hosted an epicurean journey at TsujiOne Private Culinary Academy where traditional Korean dishes, crafted by talented Chef, Lee Jong Kook, were paired with seven different wines for a private group of Korean CEOs and their wives.

The finale sold-out event “Chili, Daenjang, Umami: Pairing Korean flavours with wines” was held at Bistro Seoul. Over 130 wine professionals, connoisseurs and lovers joined Jeannie at the masterclass and wine dinner as she explained her award-winning Asian food and wine pairing philosophy.

Jeannie then flew to Chile, joining Viña Seña's team to celebrate the opening of their Biodynamic Centre and participating in a panel tasting of 16 vintages of Sena. Several days later, she crossed continents to make her way to France to assess the 2011 Burgundy wines for Decanter magazine. Visit our site or follow Jeannie on her Twitter and Weibo accounts to receive daily updates during her travels!

2011 BURGUNDY - TO BUY OR NOT TO BUY

Jeannie will be at Burgundy until 10th November visiting top producers and tasting their wines. Follow Jeannie's daily comments about the vintage and some of Burgundy's top producers on Twitter about the 2011 vintage.

ASIAN FOOD AND WINE PAIRING ADVICE

Starting this October, we will feature wine pairing recommendations from various wine experts living in Asia. This month we invited Tokyo-based sake and wine consultant Kenichi Ohashi and Shanghai-based wine editor Martin Hao to recommend their favourite pairings for signature dishes from Japan and Shanghai.
